Gold Research 6th is without doubt the best sire we have used, to follow up on the Browndale and Goldfinder bloodlines. Have quite a few half-sisters to him in the breeding herd and plan to keep at least 20 of his daughters. Some are dropping their first calves now, and look like they are going to develop into real breeding cows. Just five years old, he should be good for a number of years yet. Look him over carefully. How many herd bulls do you know of with better heads, a better spring of rib, or as thick-fleshed as this bull is? His dam was probably as good a cow as we have ever owned, with a perfect head for a brood cow. Is the same Duchess of Gloster family as one of the good bulls the late Joseph M. Collins of South Dakota sold at the International Sale a few years ago, and have since proven themselves. Here is a bull that has proven he can sire the right kind, pass on his own good qualities to his sons and daughters. A good example is Gold Research 28th selling in this sale.

Gold Research 28th—One of the better sons of Gold Research 6th. Isn't he thick and well-fleshed? No special feeding or fitting necessary with these kind. He's got it bred into him. We have had several chances to sell this bull earlier in the season, but kept him to use some ourselves. Have a number of heifers and cows settled now, so here's your chance for a good one.
